Fine Ware to be Running in the Near Future-Who Are at the Head of rought about.

The Wheeling Pottery Company, the ploneer concern of the kind here, has already introduced its wares all over this country. The LaBelle Pottery Company, Wheeling Company—is already an as-sured fact, its buildings being in course of construction in the Sixth ward near the LaBalle will LaBelle mill. A third pottery company was quietly formed some time since, and it has purchased the property on the South Side formerly used by the Riverside Furniture Company.

Yesterday a formal aunouncement was made of the fact that Wheeling is to have a fourth pottery established and operated within her borders. "The West Virginia Ohina Company" is the name of this new concern, and if money, push and enterprise can accomplish such a thing it will be turning out ware by December 1 next. A certificate of incorporation has been applied for to Secretary of State Walker, and it is expected here in a day or two. The incorporators are William L. Hearn, his son, Mr. E. R. Hearn, of Jersey Oity, Mr. E. O. Rose, of Delaware, Major Ran Stalnaker, jr., Col. Jere A. Miller and Col. Thomas O'Brien.

Soventy-five thousand dollars has been subscribed and paid in, and it is said that as much more could easily have been obtained. ANOTHER POTTERY ASSURED.

subscribed and paid in, and it is said that as much more could easily have been obtained had it been deemed desirable. The capital stock will probably be limited to not lees than $250,000. Of the amount subscribed it is understood that Col. Miller and Mr. Ross have subscribed $15,000 each, Mr. W. L. Hearn, $10,000 and Col. O'Brien and Mr. E. R. Hearn $5,000 each. The remaining $25,000 subscribed is O'Brien and Mr. E. R. Hearn $5,000 exch. The remaining $25,000 subscribed is divided between Major Ran. Stalnaker, Mr. John H. Ewing, of this city, and Mr. James A. Clark, of Trenton. Mr. Clark is the manager and practical head of a large pottery in Trenton, which is one of but three in this country manufacturing a fine, thin quality of china which the West Virginia Uhina Company proposes to make its specialty. to make its specialty.

A LOCATION PURCHASED. As soon as the gentlemen interested in this new company resolved to go ahead with their enterprise, the question of a location was considered. It was decided a location was considered. It was decided to secure, if possible the old Superior Machine Works property on North Main atreet, better known as the old Sweeney property. Major Stalnaker was eent to Baltimore to negotiate with Mr. Walter Brooks, the representative of the owners, and was fortunate enough to secure the entire property for $18,000 cash. gentlemen of the company feat this great credit is due the Mejor for the sagacious and prompt manner in which he accomplished this important matter. The purchase is considered a very reasonable one, the price being consideredly less than it was expected would have to be paid for it. The China Company, however, will uses and control but two-thirds of the property. The legal title to the remaining third will, it is understood, pass into the hands of two or three gentlemen as absolute owners. They will secure this third for a sum based on that paid for the entire property. While their purposes are not yet fully made known, it is conjectured that the interests of the Wheeling Match Company, which has occupied the property with its works ever since it has been established and in operation, and which has a lease on the property for some time to come, will not be overlooked or in any way interfered with. with.

It is the intention of the company to It is the intention of the company to start up with five kilns and as fast as there is an increase in the demand for its wares the works will be dou-bled or even trebied. The ware to be manufactured is of the finest kind, resemmanufactured is of the finest kind, resembling the fine thin transparent French ware, and as before stated, there are but three concerns in this country making There is a strong growing demend for it and with the introduction of natural gas into this field, Wheeling has become one of the most advantageous places in the world for its manufacture. These is a reserve was a believe to the first place of the contract the first place of the contraction.

A committee from the leaders of the new company is at present in Trenton conferring with Mr. Clark. It is hoped that he may be induced to come here and locate and assume the management of the new concern. If he will not come some other competent master potter will be secured, and as soon as secured the will be put to work preparing the plans. Mr. Clark has been here several times and thoroughly examined this locality. He is greatly pleased with Wheeling in every particular, and considers her an exceptionally desirable place for a pottory of any kind. this country. They were only getting about three days' work a week and were about three days' work a week and were receiving poor pay for that. As a class they are good citizens with families and would prove a decided acquisition to any community. Not only were they anxious to come to this country in order to better their condition, but they were anxious to come to Wheeling. They had heard of the old town, its advantages in the way of location and transportation, its wonderful natural gas fuel[and other features, that had fully impressed them with the true idea that Wheeling is a good place to live in.

Then followed the roll call of the Company. The names of all, living and dead, were called out, each comrade answering for himself with a speech or a story, while those who were not present were answered fer by some one. It disclosed the fact that there are between fifty-five and sixty of the members of the Company still alive. Some of the speeches were very affecting and some were of considerable length.

Col. W. B. Onris made some very feeling remarks, as did also Sergeant Blayney.

Col. W. B. Curtis made some very feeling remarks, as did also Sergeant Blayney. Sergeant Horvey enlivened the occasion with just such reminiscences as the boys like to listen to. All who attempted to say anything did well, and they go away feeling that they spent the most pleasant day of their lives on the very spot where twenty-five years ago they started out mere boys to do battle for their country and the right.

The following statistics were handed

The following statistics were handed me by one of the comrades concerning the casualties of the company during the war:

Thirty men were either killed or died of wounds. Twenty-two men were wounded, eight died of disease and eight were discharged on account of disability gentracted in the service. Six men were confined in the southern prisons, three of whom died. Deducting those who died of disease, the number discharged and the number on detached duty, the loss in killed and wounded was one-half the number reported for duty. At one time this company marched three days and nights without sleep and on less than half rations.

Gen Curtis onioned these half rations.

Gen. Curtis enjoyed the occasion as per makers without steep and on less than half rations.

Gen. Curtis enjoyed the occasion as perhaps nobody else could. He looked about ten years younger than usual. It is said he lorgot his cane this morning, and had all the household stirring by six o'clock, It cortainly is gratifying to him to know the esteem in which he is held by his men. They seem to look on him as a father, and he surely could not think more of his own children. These reunions are the sunny apots in the old veteran's lives, and they are doing much toward teaching the rising generation that patriotism so much needed at present in our country. As our boys listen as the veterans tell of their trials and hardships, they will know what it cost to save their country and they will be induced to do as their fathers did.

One of the most enlivening features of the occasion was the rendering of "Marching Through Georgia," "Red, White and Blue" and other patriotic sirs, by all the bands in concert.

"Marching Through Georgia" was sung by all the comrades, Professor Burke leading and all joining in the chorns.

At night J. Mont Curtis Post No. 78, was mustered by Assistant Adjutant, F. H. Crago, sesisted by Comrades Baggs and Galbreath, of Holliday Post and quite a number of the members. The following officers were elected: John Gardner, Post Commander; Henry Spear, Senior Vice Commander; Henry Spear, Senior Vice Commander; Henry Spear, Senior Vice Commander; W. B. Curtis, Quartermesler; C. H. Deitere, Adjutant, &c. The Post starts off with all the elements of success in it, and it will soon be one of the very best Posts in the State.

Zo alon "looe Last ton and a friend named Harry West, were in the place drinking beer. They had gotten pretty well filled up, and seasoned with sundry drinks of whisky, when a quarrel was started over some matter and a general fight in-augurated. The trouble is said to have oligitated over some beer set up by a newly made bridgeron, of warrenton. Jerome Forter, a young place for some beer, and the three other parties named suddonly turned from each other to him and used him very severely. Two of his ribs were broken and his jaw bone was fractured, and howas otherwise bruised and injured. What made the assault all the more aggravated was the fact, that on Forter's part there was no provocation for the bealing. Ever mugs and stones were used in hammering Forter and he wonder is that the man was not killed. In fracts Weatherson attempted to stop it and was list a frightful blow over the left type by West, who used, a pair of knuckless in doing it. He siterwards recovered sufficiently to clean the gang out. No arrests have been made as yet.

The many friends of Col. C. L. Poorman are glad to learn that he will accept a renomination for Representative at the coming County Convention. Col. Poorman artistned a faster reputation as an able and honest legislator in the tera just closed. The people here feel they cannot dispense with his services at this time, in the midst of important legislator completed. Besides, it is according to the rule to give him a second term and it is predicted he will be nominated by acclamation.

The services in the M. E. claurch to-morrow will be unusually interesting. This evening quarterly conference convenes with Rev. Dr. Webb in the chair. This being the last meeting of this kind for the ecclesiastical year, all the officers of the church will be elected and standing committees appointed. To morrow the order of the day will be as follows: Bible school, 9. A. M. key Dr. Webb will occupy the pulpit from 10-05 dill 11-30 A. M., after which searming tunder Rev. Each D. Speedily Cured by Cuticura.

Our little son will be four years of ago on the 25th inst. 1 m May, 1855, he was antacked with a very painful breaking out of the skin. We celled in a physician who treated him for about four weeks. The child received little or no good from the tr-atment, as the breaking out, supposed by the physician to be hives in an aggravated form, became larger in biotches, and more and more distressing. We were frequently obliged to get up in the night and rub him with soda in water, strong liniments, etc. Finally, we called other physician, until no less than six had strempted to cure him, alt silks falling, and the child atsadily getting worse and worse, until about the 7th of last July, when we becam to give him Cuticura Escolvent intermally, and the Cuticura, and Cuticura last of the Rosi vent internally, and the Cuticura, and Cuticura in the state of the Rosi vent internally, and the Cuticura, and Cuticura so nearly well that the property of the Rosi vent internally, and the cuticura continued in the horrible mainly. In all we used less than one half of a bottle of Cuticura, and only one cake of Cuticura Soan.
